TILDEN ELECTED.

The returns received up to 12 o'clock confirm the dispatches of yesterday morning, and show the election of Tilden. At 12 o'clock, midnight, making the most liberal allowances for all that is reasonably claimed for Hayes, the vote stands as follows:

At this time the Republicans claim to have carried Florida, Louisiana and Oregon, in addition to the States placed in the Hayes column, but their claim has no basis except mere assertion, against the fact that all the returns so far received from them show large Democratic gains, and indicate positive and decisive majorities. Mr. Tilden could lose two of these States and be elected. Oregon is Democratic beyond all question. It has never failed to give a Democratic majority at any important election since the Presidential election of 1868, when it went Democratic.

Oregon alone, therefore, makes Tilden's election sure. The vote will not be known, nor actual majority ascertained before Saturday, and the same is true of Nevada, that is as likely to go for Tilden as for Hayes, although we concede it to the latter. Present reports from both Florida and Louisiana show them to have given Democratic majorities. That it is the intention of the Kellogg Returning Board to annul the Presidential election and defeat the people's will, if the counting out of the Democratic majority in Louisiana will do it, is very evident. Consequently, if all the States above conceded to Hayes, and Oregon and Florida should cast their votes for him, and Louisiana go Democratic, it is the intention of Zach. Chandler and his crowd to defeat Tilden by counting out the Democratic majority in the Kellogg Returning Board, as was done in 1871, when its electoral vote was stolen from Mr. Greeley, and as every election has been decided there since.

But whether Congress and the people will tolerate this contemplated outrage yet remains to be seen. At all events Samuel J. Tilden has been elected President.—Pittsburgh Post, 9th.

LATER.

The news this morning, Friday, gives Tilden South Carolina, Louisiana and Florida, which makes 206 electoral votes for TILDEN. We have also a good chance for Wisconsin, California and Oregon.

The grand torch-light procession of the Democracy of Canton on Saturday evening last was the affair of the campaign, and the speeches of Hon. E. G. Cracraft, of Wheeling, and Hon. George L. Converse, of Columbus, were able and cheering.

Mr. Cracraft is a young man of thirty years—has been Speaker of the House of West Virginia, and is one of the most eloquent orators of the country. His effort on Saturday evening last was from the Court House steps, and for over an hour he enthralled the large crowd with his eloquence and wit. Applause and cheers frequently interrupted the able speaker. Mr. Cracraft remained in Canton over Sunday. We hope to receive a visit from him at some future time.

Our friend, Mr. Converse, late Speaker of the House of our General Assembly, only spoke fifteen or twenty minutes. Ourselves Mr. Converse's remarks were so good, and able and acceptable. Mr. C. is a favorite in Canton, as he spoke here on a memorable occasion during the war, and acquitted himself with that cool dignity and power for which he is so distinguished.

Now that election is over, and Tilden President elect, it is advisable to settle down to business, and resume the even tenor of the daily walks of life. The tidal wave of popular sentiment having settled the federal administration for four years from the 4th of next March, let one and all resume their daily duties, and rest assured that when Samuel J. Tilden assumes the duties of the position our public affairs will be in honest and safe hands.

Tax discussion at Greentown on Friday evening of last week, was between I. C. Cole, Esq. of Massillon, and A. McGregor, on the Democratic side, and Judge Heidenbrand, and Mr. Carnes on the Republican side. We discovered the Judge thinks Babcock a very innocent man, but was not so sure about his dog.

Scatter the trump of fame,
Glow down upon us;
Through the land proclaim
Democracy's grand chorus!
Lead us on to all
Glories of the Nation;
Bringing better times
To men of every station.
